DOLLAR BACON
TALK SCARES
WALL STREETSENATORS PROPOSE
RAISING OF RENTS
AND END OF OPA

Washington, Feb. 25 (P)—A Senate subcommittee voted today to raise rents 10 per cent, while soaring commodity prices brought talk of "dollar bacon" in Chicago and scared the New York stock market into a decline.

The day didn't bring totally bad news for consumers, however.

A Washington meeting of the American Retail Federation heard these declarations:

By Chairman Jerome M. Ney of the federation: "Prices are higher than consumers want to pay and as supply reasserts itself, the consumer will become more selective in buying. Retailers must, in the consumer interest, insist on economic prices from their sources and see to it that quality returns to even better than prewar standards."

Buyers' Market Foreseen

By President Walter Morrow of the federation: "Many industry leaders are moving positively in the direction of lower prices (and this will) do more than any one thing to take the steam out of rising wage demands."

By Chairman Edwin G. Nourse of President Truman's Council of Economic Advisers—Business in 1947 will swing "definitely from a seller's market to a buyer's market."

New York reported there already is a buyer's market in scores of its hotels, with week-enders finding accommodations available without reservations. In Washington also hotel space was reported much easier to get than in the war years.

Labor department officials who fit retail and wholesale prices into consumer price indexes declined to predict what might happen to food prices in the next few months.

Nevertheless, some of the department experts agreed that the recent highs for wholesale prices point naturally to higher retail prices.

At Chicago today, record high marks were reached in commodity prices with hogs selling for $30 a hundred pounds. Cotton got as high as 35.02 cents a pound before it broke and wheat futures for a time were at a 30-year high of $2.39 a bushel.

Pork Takes Jump

Russ Jeter, wholesale market analyst for the agriculture department, said in Chicago that wholesalers are marking pork prices up in line with hog advances and that these increases should reach consumers later this week.

"Some retail shops may translate wholesale prices into pork at $1 a pound for center cuts," he said.

A spokesman for one meat packer said that consumers had shown a willingness to pay high prices for pork; another said hog prices would drop if consumers showed resistance to pork prices.

Stocks in New York sold $1 to $4 lower in a sudden move to unload holdings. Brokers attributed the break to fears that high prices for hogs and other cost-of-living items might bring a new round of higher wage demands or strikes endangering current production rates.

In Washington, Maj. Gen. Philip B. Fleming, head of the Office of Temporary Controls, told the Senate appropriations committee he

PIPELINE SALE
GETS APPROVAL

Price Of $143,127,000
Accepted For Little And Big Inch

Washington, Feb. 25 (P)—The War Assets Administration announced today the justice department has approved sale of the Big Inch and Little Inch pipelines to the Texas Eastern Transmission corporation for $143,127,000.

WAA Administrator Robert M. Littlejohn immediately signed a formal letter of intent which means that WAA has accepted the company's cash proposal to buy the lines for the movement of natural gas to the eastern seaboard.

The Texas Eastern company, however, still must obtain a certificate of public convenience and necessity from the federal power commission before it can begin deliveries. Senator Myers (D-Pa.) has said the sale is "not final at all" and has asked a thorough investigation by FPC before gas is moved east of the Alleghenies.

The line is now in limited operation by the Tennessee Gas and Transmission company, carrying natural gas as far as the Pittsburgh area. Pennsylvania interests have opposed the movement of natural gas into the New York-Philadelphia area where it would compete with production of anthracite coal in Pennsylvania.

Approval by the justice department is required on all large real property sales of government surplus, to assure that they do not contravene anti-trust laws.

Extra $7.50 Voted
State Legislators
Faces Court Test

Jackson, Mich., Feb. 25 (P)—The right of Michigan's legislators to draw $7.50 per day in expenses was challenged today in a circuit court suit filed by a Jackson attorney.

Philip C. Kelly, acting as a taxpayer, named Auditor General Muri K. Aten as defendant and asked that the court restrain him from approving payment of the increased allowances.

A Senate bill providing the $7.50 expense allowance was passed last week in Lansing.

Kelly charged in his bill of complaint that the allowance is unconstitutional since Michigan's constitution provides only for $3 per day plus mileage for its lawmakers.

The attorney added that four former attorney generals, whom he did not name, have ruled against payment of such expense monies.

Black Market Ring
Diverts 5 Million
Pounds Of Sugar

Chicago, Feb. 25 (P)—Twenty-six individuals were indicted today by a federal grand jury investigating a ring which a government prosecutor said diverted 5,000,000 pounds of sugar into a "gigantic black market."

J. Albert Woll, U. S. district attorney, described the seven indictments as "merely the beginning" of an extensive investigation of illegal dealings in sugar. He predicted numerous other indictments would be returned by the grand jury later this week.

The prosecutor estimated the ring netted $500,000 in midwest sales of counterfeit and stolen sugar stamps.

Bevin Says Truman
Spoiled British Deal
On Holy Land Jews

BY ROBERT WEIL

London, Feb. 25 (P)—Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin declared today that President Truman had "spoiled" Britain's negotiations on Palestine by insisting on issuing a statement during the United States congressional election campaign last fall calling for the admission of 100,000 Jews to the Holy Land.

Bevin told the House of Commons that he had "begged" James F. Byrnes, then U. S. secretary of state, "that the statement should not be issued, but I was told that if it was not issued by Mr. Truman a competitive statement would be issued by Mr. Dewey." (Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York.)

ATOMIC ENERGY
ACCORD PUSHED

Unanimous Approval On Harnessing Force For Peace Sought

BY FRANCIS W. CARPENTER
Lake Success, N. Y., Feb. 25 (P)—The United States suggested tonight that the United Nations Atomic Energy Commission try once more to reach unanimous agreement on the long-debated problem of harnessing the atom for peace.

Warren R. Austin, chief American delegate to the security council, asked the council to send back to the atomic commission its December report, which carried the United States plan for atomic control, and refer the changes offered by Soviet Russia and the council's comment on the whole question.

However, Soviet delegate Andrei A. Gromyko blocked a vote on the U. S. resolution by telling the council he would speak at the next meeting. The council adjourned and will take up atomic energy again Friday.

The meeting was overshadowed by developments in the trusteeship field which will have a decided bearing on the council session tomorrow when the delegates will hear Austin make a major speech on the American request for sole authority to administer the Japanese-mandated Pacific islands.

Russia informed the United States that she approved the American trusteeship. This caused expressions of surprise and evident pleasure among the council delegates.

L'Anse Man Made
Copper Country
Judge By Sigler

Lansing, Feb. 25 (P)—Governor Sigler today appointed Leo J. Brennan, deputy attorney general, to be circuit judge of the 12th judicial circuit embracing Houghton, Baraga and Keweenaw counties.

Brennan, a resident of L'Anse-au-Loup, resigned as Baraga county probate judge to become deputy attorney general January 1.

He succeeds the late Judge B. H. T. Burritt.

"I really must point out that in international affairs I cannot settle things if my problem is to be made the subject of local elections," he said.

The foreign minister said Britain was still willing to make one more try to settle the Palestine problem before referring it to the United Nations. He also asserted that Arabs could be persuaded to allow 100,000 Jews to enter the Holy Land if future immigration "was to be determined by the elected representatives of the people of Palestine."

"There is still a chance of a settlement yet, if people will come off their arbitrary position, without going to the United Nations," he said.

"I am still open to a try. If it was only a question of alleviating Europe of 100,000 Jews, I believe a settlement could be found."

Unfortunately that is not the position. From the Zionist point of view, 100,000 is only a beginning. The Jewish agency talks in terms of millions."

Bevin apparently ruled out the possibility of dividing Palestine into separate Arab and Jewish states. He said that as he saw it, there were three alternatives for the U. N. to consider.

"1. Shall the claim of the Jews be admitted that Palestine is to be a Jewish state; or

"2. Shall the claim of the Arabs be admitted that it is to be an Arab state with safeguards for the Jew, under the decision for a national home; or

"3. Shall it be a Palestinian state in which the interests of both communities are as carefully balanced and protected as possible?"

Foe Of Rockefeller
In Standard Oil Co.
Col Stewart Dies

Miami Beach, Fla., Feb. 25 (P)—Col. Robert Wright Stewart, 80, who rose to a position of power in the industrial world only to lose a memorable vote-battle to John D. Rockefeller, Jr., for control of Standard Oil of Indiana in 1929, died here yesterday.

Death was attributed to the infirmities of age. He had been ill for two months after having arrived in Florida from Chicago in November.

The body will be cremated and the ashes flown to his birthplace at Cedar Rapids, Iowa, where funeral services will be held Saturday. Surviving are his widow and four sons.

Deadline Is Fixed
For Hemans Appeal

Detroit, Feb. 25 (P)—Charles F. Hemans today was granted a second extension of time limit for filing an appeal from his four year prison sentence as a fugitive witness.

Hemans, now an inmate of Lewisburg, Pa., federal penitentiary, was found guilty of fleeing from Michigan last summer to avoid testifying at the examination of defendants in the anti-branch bank bill conspiracy case.

Federal Judge Theodore Levin, who imposed sentence on Hemans Dec. 10, set a new deadline of March 15 for filing of his appeal.

HOPES VANISH
FOR AFL-CIO
MERGER PLANORGANIZED LABOR
UNITY MOVEMENT
STRIKES SNAG

BY HAROLD W. WARD

Washington, Feb. 25 (P)—Prospects for any immediate merger of the American Federation of Labor and the Congress of Industrial Organizations virtually vanished today when the AFL took the position that the CIO had rejected its unification proposal.

AFL President William Green, in a letter to CIO Chief Philip Murray, said he deeply regretted that the CIO had "declined the request" to meet "for the purpose of creating a united organized labor movement on a sound and permanent basis."

Green added that an AFL committee of five stood "ready to meet with you and your associates for the purpose of creating organic unity and solidarity within the ranks of labor."

Opinions Differ

Murray had told Green in a letter Feb. 18 that "organic unity" could be discussed eventually, but that the first step was to cooperate in fighting off unwanted legislation in Congress and State Legislatures.

On those two differences of opinion the chance for merger at this time seemed to have been dashed. The door which Green had appeared to open in a letter to Murray January 31 was swung almost shut in the exchange of communications which followed. Both organizations named committees to meet and talk things over, but that was as far as it has gone.

The AFL president also wrote a letter today to Senator Taft (R-Ohio) chairman of the Senate Labor Committee which last week heard Murray suggest that jurisdictional strikes could be eliminated if the committee called himself and Green together for a meeting on the subject. Taft had commented that was not the committee's task.

Green told that merger of the two organizations would promptly terminate the conflict between unions for jurisdiction over groups of workers. He said Murray never before had attempted to get together with the AFL on the jurisdictional issue.

RAILWAY UNION
HEAD PROTESTS

Labor Treated Like Gang Of Bandits, House Committee Told

Washington, Feb. 25 (P)—A. F. Whitney, leader of the railroad strike last May, roared to the house labor committee today:

"There is no need to smear labor by writing a multiplicity of laws that would make it appear that labor is a bunch of bandits."

His outburst came at the end of a crowded day in which Joe Curran and Harry Bridges, who have recently become open enemies in the maritime labor field, complained bitterly to the senate labor committee against pending legislation which they called anti-labor.

Whitney told the house group that last year's railroad dispute is "still unsettled" but he is going on the theory that it will be settled without another strike this spring.

Two unions, Whitney's trainmen and the railroad engineers, were forced by the government on May 25 to end their strike without the changes in working rules which they ardently sought. When Whitney testified today that this issue still exists, Rep. Nixon (R-Calif.) asked whether the matter was "sufficient to cause a strike."

Whitney said: "I can't answer that now. I'm not going to cross the bridge until we come to it. I'm not prepared to predict what will happen next May. But I'm going on the theory that we will meet the railroads and effect a settlement."

He attributed the 1946 strike to "government interference."

Honolulu, Feb. 25 (P)—The Seventh Air Force today cancelled the Betty Jo's projected Honolulu-New York nonstop flight, less than an hour after it had announced a 2 p. m. (6:30 p. m., CST) takeoff for Lt. Col. Robert E. Thacker, P-82. Adverse weather over Hawaii and the Pacific was reported.

Purdue Seeks Cause
Of Bleacher Crash;
Two Dead, 250 Hurt

Lafayette, Ind., Feb. 25 (P)—Purdue university, a school with a host of engineering experts on its faculty, set out today to learn the cause of the collapse that tumbled 3,500 basketball fans into a tangled heap from which two persons were taken dead and 250 others injured.

Of the injured 142 remained in two hospitals and the university infirmary, and at least nine of them were reported in critical condition.

The bleachers fell last night at the half-time intermission of the Purdue-Wisconsin basketball game as the fans rose to cheer the home team, which held a one-point lead over the Badgers, leaders in the Big Nine race.

Dr. Frederick L. Hovde, 39-year-old president of Purdue who headed the government's rocket development program during the war, took the lead in ascertaining the cause of the accident. In a preliminary report to Gov. Ralph F. Gates he attributed it to "structural failure of materials."

Dr. Hovde informed the governor that the wooden bleachers, 100 feet long and arranged in a tier of 42 rows, was "bought from a reputable company" and had been used during the football season last fall.

At Indianapolis Governor Gates sent a special message to the Indiana legislature, now in session, in which he gave all the information received from President Hovde on the tragedy. As suggested by the governor, the Senate and House each named one of its members to cooperate with university and state officials in an investigation.

In his message the governor said: "President Hovde and the entire staff of Purdue university are doing, and will continue to do, everything within their power to see that those who are injured are properly cared for and will thoroughly investigate the causes which led to the accident."

The university was swamped with calls from frantic parents throughout the country anxious to learn whether their sons and daughters had been injured. As quickly as possible university officials compiled a list of injured and sent telegrams to next of kin.

Hundreds of students also rushed to telephones and telegraph offices to send word to their parents that they were safe, and communication facilities from the university city were clogged for hours.

Instead, the foreign ministers will receive diverse recommendations from the four deputies and a mass of suggestions from smaller Allies. The council therefore will have to begin with deciding how to work out the German treaty rather than with getting down to the substance of the peace.

In the final session the deputies bogged down even on the question of how they were to report their disagreement.

Killing Of Hold-Up
Man Was Justified,
Says Lansing Jury

Lansing, Feb. 25 (P)—A six-man coroner's jury today exonerated Delmer Conder, 23, a gasoline station attendant who bulldozed a hold-up man to death Sunday night.

The jury said they believed Conder "was justified in his assault" on the bandit, Anthony McFarr, 30, a former Detroit policeman and wrestler.

Testimony showed McFarr was killed when Conder beat him on the head with a pipe wrench and a piece of lumber following the holdup.

Merger Of 3 U. P.
Power Companies
Before State Body

Lansing, Feb. 25 (P)—The state public service commission today was considering the application of officials of the Houghton County Electric Light company for the proposed incorporation of a new company to consolidate three Upper Peninsula power companies.

The company, to be called the Upper Peninsula Power company, proposes the union of the Houghton County Electric company, the Copper District Power company, and the Iron Range Light and Power company under an eventual capitalization of $4,000,000.

U. P. Transportation
Schedules Studied
By Commission

Lansing, Feb. 25 (P)—A series of public hearings on Upper Peninsula transportation facilities will be conducted by the Michigan Public Service Commission beginning March 25 at Sault Ste. Marie, Vice-Chairman Gilbert T. Shilson said today.

Hearings in the central, western and copper districts of the peninsula will follow, Shilson said.

He said the survey was intended to co-ordinate schedules, improve service, and speeding the service between the Upper Peninsula and the Lower Peninsula in relation to train, bus and truck operations.

Meanwhile, in Albany, it appeared that a report by Dewey's special education committee, originally expected to be submitted to the New York legislature tomorrow, might not be forthcoming until Thursday or Friday.

Dewey spokesmen had indicated that the committee's report would include a salary schedule which might satisfy the demands of the striking members of the Buffalo Teachers Federation.

AMERICA TOLD
ISLAND AREASJAP LANDS WON BY
U. S. A. IN BLOOD,
MOSCOW SAYS

Washington, Feb. 25 (P)—In a surprise move, Russia has stamped its cordial approval on a plan for American control of the 623 Pacific islands wrested from Japanese mandate, Secretary of State Marshall disclosed today.

A Moscow note took the position that United States control would be entirely fair because the blood shed in evicting the Japanese was largely American.

Capital Speculates

The note, contrasting so sharply with Russia's frequent disagreements with this country, set the capital buzzing with speculation about possible motives. Marshall was asked at a news conference whether he thought Moscow was trying to set a precedent to justify the Soviets' own post-war land acquisitions. He declined comment.

Russia had been generally expected to side with the British and Australian contention that the United Nations should postpone the whole question of a future of the strategic Marshall, Marianas, and Caroline groups until a peace treaty is written with Japan.

Marshall gave a news conference a paraphrase of the Russian note which made no mention of delay. The communication arrived yesterday.

Russian-American affairs on the eve of next month's Moscow peace conference of the Big Four foreign ministers dominated a series of announcements and comments by Marshall, which included:

Delegates Leave March 15

1. There has been no change whatever in general policies of the United States on terms of a European postwar settlement from the pronouncements of former Secretary James F. Byrnes last fall at Stuttgart and the American positions at the 1945 Potsdam conference.

2. An American delegation of 84 has been selected for the Moscow conference and will leave by air probably March 5. It includes John Foster Dulles, Republican foreign affairs adviser who has attended earlier conferences and was chosen for Moscow with the concurrence of Chairman Vandenberg (R-Mich) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee. In New York, Dulles issued a statement calling for united effort by Americans to aid in winning "the kind of peace for which so many suffered and died."

3. Marshall considers as closed the diplomatic quarrel resulting from Undersecretary Dean Acheson's comment that Soviet foreign policy was "aggressive and expanding." The state department plans no reply to Foreign Minister Molotov's latest note which said that Marshall's explanation was unconvincing.

4. At Moscow Marshall will be guided by circumstances, in taking up with Molotov issues not involved in the German and Austrian peace settlements. He said,

TAX DIVERSION SUITS STARTED

Macomb School District Demands Payment Of State Aid Funds

Lansing, Feb. 25 (AP)—The filing of a demand for payment of money due under the sales tax diversion amendment and its refusal by the state revenue commission today was the first maneuver in the coming supreme court suit to clarify the meaning of the amendment.

A resolution of the school board of District No. 2, Warren township, Macomb county, was served on D. Hale Brake, state treasurer; Earl K. Aten, attorney general; and Louis M. Nims, state revenue commissioner.

Filed by Roscoe O. Bonisteel, Ann Arbor attorney representing the district and the Michigan Education Association, the demand said the district lacks sufficient funds to carry on its proper functions and will be forced to curtail necessary functions unless "the present controversy and quandary over the so-called sales tax diversion amendment is settled" and the funds "are speedily distributed."

"The department of revenue refuses to comply with the demand," Nims said in a prepared statement. "The department of revenue is headed by a statutory commission, created solely by the legislature, and it has no constitutional authority to pay public money from the public treasury. The legislature only can do so."

Both Brake and Aten reiterated their previous statements that they will "pay out no funds until an official determination be made."

LENINGRAD HERO QUILTS HIS POST

Soviet Union Chairman Is Close Friend Of Stalin

London, Feb. 25 (AP)—Marshal Andrei Aleksandrovitch Zhdanov, hero of the Battle of Leningrad, has asked to be relieved of his post as chairman of the Council of the Union of the Supreme Soviet, the Moscow radio said tonight.

The reason for the request, the broadcast said, was "pressure of work connected with his main duties."

Zhdanov is secretary of the central committee of the Communist party and has been a leading figure in a post-war drive to purge Soviet literature and art of tendencies to stray from their ideological aims. He also is chairman of the allied control commission for Finland.

The distinguished soldier, a close friend of Prime Minister Stalin, is a member of the Politburo, the inner council of the Soviet government, and several items have been mentioned in western newspaper speculation as a possible successor to Stalin as head of the government.

The Soviet of the Union corresponds roughly to the House of Representatives in the American Congress and its members are elected by the people, usually with unanimous votes. The other chamber, the Soviet of Nationalities, is elected by the supreme councils of each of the Soviet republics which comprise the federated union.

Muskegon Mother Of Four Kills Baby, 2

Muskegon, Mich., Feb. 25 (AP)—A 37-year-old mother of four children today slashed the wrist of her youngest child, then strangled it with a diaper, Sheriff Louis Eklund reported.

The sheriff said the woman, Mrs. Tillie Cedron, was a police prisoner in Muskegon hospital where she was expected to recover from cutting her own wrists and swallowing a quantity of iodine and aspirin.

The dead child was Bonnie Dianne, 2, whose body, a diaper tightly knotted around the throat, was found in the Cedron home 10 miles east of Muskegon in Sullivan township.

The sheriff said Mrs. Cedron was hysterical and could not be questioned, but her husband, Nick, related that she had suffered a nervous breakdown four years ago and had been ill since then.

Detroit Realtor To Be Buried Thursday

Detroit, Feb. 25 (AP)—Funeral services will be held Thursday for Burt Eddy Taylor, who built a one-man real estate agency into a $10,000,000 organization.

The 70-year-old Taylor, a native of Ohio, played a major role in the development of the Grand River Avenue district of Detroit into a residential area.

Briefly Told

Robert Donovan, 1715 Fifth avenue south, has left for Menominee, where he will be employed by the Northern Paper company.

Andrew Ferrari and Carl Nelson have left for the west coast on their way to Okinawa, where they will be employed on a government construction project under a three-year contract.

DOLLAR BACON TALK SCARES WALL STREET

sees a danger of sugar going as high as 30 cents a pound.

He said this could well happen unless Congress grants some $16,000,000 of funds slashed by the House from OPA and other control agencies.

Fleming also said that a fundless OPA could cost most families a rent increase of $7.50 a month. He said the House cuts would "for all practical purposes stop rent control and end sugar rationing."

Rent control would be stopped officially December 31 in the bill which the Senate banking committee adopted on a 3 to 2 vote. The bill provides that a 10 per cent increase be allowed immediately.

The measure proposes to vest enforcement of ceilings in the courts with all OPA control of rents terminating at the end of 1947. It would freeze rent ceilings as of last Dec. 31, permitting 10 per cent to be added.

It would permit states to take controls by certifying to a federal agency, probably the commerce department, that the legislature had made such provision. Federal records would be made available to them.

The subcommittee proposed to take controls off housing made ready for occupancy after Feb. 1, and to decontrol housing which was not rented between Feb. 1, 1946, and Jan. 31, 1947.

The bill would make violation of the legal rent figure subject to a $500 fine or triple damages, whichever is greater, with the sum being paid to the tenant.

Evictions would be put under the jurisdiction of state law with the proviso that there must be some reason for eviction other than simply a desire to terminate tenancy.

The bill also would do this:

1. Decontrol hotel accommodations.
2. Take off ceilings where the rent is $225 or more after the 10 per cent increase is added. "People who pay this much need no protection," Buck commented.
3. Allow rent to be increased in event improvements or repairs are made if the tenant agrees to the increase. However, if there is no advance agreement, the tenant could not be evicted for failing to pay the increase.
4. Require the landlord to continue services which were furnished on the rent freeze date.

Newsprint Shortage Forces Papers To Reduce Advertising

New York, Feb. 26 (AP)—Newsprinters in many sections of the country were forced today to curtail advertising because of dwindling newsprint supplies arising in part from a recent Canadian government order diverting boxcars to grain shipments needed in Europe.

Spokesmen for the Saguenay Industrial Association at Arvida, Quebec, today were quoted as predicting a shutdown of Canadian mills is adverse weather or other conditions prevented arrival of available boxcars on time. All storage space and warehouses available were filled with newsprint, they said.

Meanwhile, some newspapers described the situation as worse than at any time during the war and others reported that they had warned their readers to expect sharp reductions in features and advertising until a more abundant supply of white paper could be found.

BIG GAIN SHOWN BY CHICAGO GOP

Both Sides Predicting April 1 Victory In Mayoral Contest

Chicago, Feb. 25 (AP)—Chicago's powerful Democratic organization, a pillar in the party's 1948 presidential hopes, outpulled the Republicans nearly two to one in today's mayoral primary, but GOP gains over four years ago, combined with a heavy independent vote, brought predictions of ultimate victory from both political camps.

The Independent vote, which election officials estimated was the heaviest in the city's history, was cast in the non-partisan aldermanic election which did not necessarily require a declaration of party affiliation.

A projection, based on virtually complete returns, indicated 518,912 Democratic ballots were cast to 275,672 Republican. The independent vote was estimated at 257,000.

Russell W. Root, 46, assistant state treasurer and former Cook County Republican chairman, easily won the Republican nomination for mayor. Root, backed by Gov. Dwight D. Green's Republican organization, polled 230,110 votes in 3,873 of the city's 4,054 precincts. Walter E. Pacanowski polled 6,819 and William F. Galling, 7,361.

Martin H. Kennelly, who had the support of retiring Mayor Edward J. Kelly, polled 460,667 votes in 3,903 precincts. He was unopposed for the Democratic mayoral nomination.

The two will meet in the April 1 mayoral election — one of the nation's major 1947 contests. Car-Reece, Republican National chairman, has urged a Root victory as a major step in the GOP goal of winning the presidency next year.

AMERICA BACKS UP FREE INDIA

Moral Support Given To Britain For Forming Independent Nation

Washington, Feb. 25 (AP)—The United States today threw its moral support behind Britain's efforts to set up a free and independent India by June, 1948, and urged India's leading political factions to get together.

Secretary of State Marshall, in announcing U. S. backing for Britain's program, warned in a statement that civil strife in India could become the source of "new international tensions in a world only now beginning to grope its way back to peace."

Marshall specifically appealed to the Congress party and the Moslem league to resolve their political differences.

The two groups are cooperating in an interim government set up last September by the British but the Moslem league has refused to participate in an assembly to draw up a constitution for a federal union of India.

The League continues to campaign for a separate Moslem state, an arrangement strongly opposed by the Congress party.

Reciprocal Trade Pacts Tightened By President Truman

Washington, Feb. 25 (AP)—President Truman today announced he had ordered tighter safeguards on reciprocal trade agreements with other countries as a prelude to the 19-nation world trade conference in Geneva in April.

The president issued an executive order which, he said, is designed to make "doubly sure that American interests will be properly safeguarded."

Apparently seeking to calm fears that the United States might become a dumping ground for cheap foreign goods, the president ordered the insertion of "escape clauses" in trade pacts with other nations, so that tariff or other concessions which proved harmful to American producers could be cancelled.

He also set up machinery providing for appeals to the tariff commission by persons who feel they are damaged by imports.

Sensors Vandenberg (R-Mich.) and Millikin (R-Colo.) who had suggested that the president modify the trade pact program in order to head off a congressional movement to scrap or greatly modify it, issued the following joint statement tonight:

"We welcome the president's order as a substantial advance in the legitimate and essential domestic protections which should be part of an equally essential foreign trade program. The president refers to the fact that his order is the result of suggestions by us. This is entirely true in respect to the provisions for post-agreement appeals if and when affected domestic interests may be jeopardized. Here, the United States tariff commission has responsibility to make direct protective recommendations to the president.

"The president's order differs, however, from our suggestions that the tariff commission should have somewhat similar direct responsibilities to prevent errors before they occur. But in the main we count the president's order as highly useful progress in a desirable direction. As to the proposed Geneva negotiations for a new world trade organization, we shall of course reserve our positions and our judgment until the completed agreement is submitted for constitutional approval."

Other reaction on Capitol Hill was mixed. Some Democrats applauded the president's move, while foes of low tariff barriers vigorously renewed their cries against "free trade."

Des Moines Company Wants Radio Tower Quarter Mile High

Washington, Feb. 25 (AP)—The Cowles Broadcasting Co. of Des Moines, Iowa, announced today it is applying to the Federal Communications Commission for a permit to construct the highest structure in the world, at Des Moines, for broadcasting from frequency modulation station KRNT.

The station asked a license to construct a 1,530-foot FM tower—more than a quarter mile high.

Citizens Of Georgia Organize Purge Of Democratic Party

Atlanta, Ga., Feb. 25 (AP)—Leaders of "The Around Citizens of Georgia" will undertake tomorrow to reorganize Georgia's Democratic party and purge it of the political faction led by the late Eugene Talmadge.

Formed a month ago to protest the unprecedented election of Herman Talmadge by the legislature to the governorship term of his late father, the citizens' group is represented by a 75-man executive committee.

Spokesmen declined predictions "until after the committee meets," but sources within the committee told the Associated Press the group would be asked to read Talmadge and his faction out of the Democratic party. Talmadge will be accused of "bolting" the party and thus forfeiting leadership.

The move, significantly, follows registration of the name "Democratic Party," and two similar designations with Georgia's secretary of state. A reorganization such as is contemplated could lead to rival primary elections or conventions, and eventually to rival "Democratic" parties competing in the general election.

AMERICA TOLD TO TAKE OVER ISLAND AREAS

6. Romania has assured the United States that it will refrain from discrimination and carry out faithfully other stipulations made by President Truman, in distributing 7,000 tons of U. S. Army food to famine-stricken Moldavia province.

The United States proposal to administer the former Japanese-mandate islands as a "strategic area" was submitted last week to the United Nations security council. It would give this government virtually the same rights as would come under outright annexation.

The text of the proposal was circulated in advance to nations represented on the council and the Moscow note was in response to this.

Marshall told reporters that as far as he knew no nation other than Russia had given its concurrence thus far. The trusteeship plan will be taken up tomorrow by the U. N. Security Council.

Hollywood Hungry For West Point's Touchdown Twins

Hollywood, Feb. 25. (AP)—Movie studios are keenly interested in making a motion picture this summer starring Felix (Doc) Blanchard and Glenn Davis, West Point's touchdown twins, and the Army football duo most likely will make it, the William Morris Agency said today.

The War Department has announced there would be no objection to Davis and Blanchard making a movie during their leave.

VOIGTS CHOSEN WILDCAT COACH

Line Tutor Of Browns In All-America To Succeed Waldorf

Chicago, Feb. 25 (AP)—Robert W. Voigts, 31, line coach of the Cleveland Browns of the All-America Conference, was named head football coach of Northwestern university tonight by the university board of trustees to succeed Lynn (Pappy) Waldorf who resigned.

Voigts returns to his alma mater, where he starred as a tackle in 1936, '37 and '38, with a three-year contract. He is the first alumnus football mentor since 1913 when Basketball Coach Dennis Grady served one year as grid coach.

Waldorf resigned ten days ago to take the head football coaching position at the University of California.

No salary terms were announced but Voigts had demanded earlier "that the price be right and that I can name my own assistants." Waldorf was said to be getting around $10,000 when he quit and the Browns were believed to be paying Voigts the same figure.

Northwestern Athletic Director Ted Payseur said, "we are very happy to have as our new football coach, Bob Voigts, one of Northwestern's great athletes. He distinguished himself in three sports during his undergraduate athletic competition. His record as a coach is outstanding."

Voigts is expected to visit the Wildcat campus Thursday to meet the players and confer about his staff.

Voigts is a native of Evanston, home of the Wildcats, and played on six championship teams at Evanston township high school, two each in football, basketball and baseball. He entered the university in 1935, the same year in which Lynn Waldorf began his 12-year career as head coach. He joined the varsity in 1936 immediately winning a regular tackle spot and held the post for three years of play.

He also captained the basketball team during the 1938-39 season and was an outstanding guard. In addition he was a member of the baseball team for three years.

Voigts accepted the post of co-coach of the football and basketball teams at Illinois Wesleyan in 1939 with Don Heap. Heap is head baseball coach at Northwestern. Under this partnership Wesleyan won two Illinois College Conference football championships and in 1941 Voigts resigned to become line coach at Yale.

Voigts resigned the Yale job after one year to enlist in the navy, received an ensign's commission and was assistant coach of the Great Lakes football team for two years, 1942-43, during which the Bluejackets won the national service championship.

In August of 1944 Voigts was assigned to sea duty and served in both the Atlantic and Pacific areas. After receiving his honorable discharge in October, 1945, he accepted the post of line coach for the Browns who won the All-America League championship in 1946, first year of the league play.

Voigts was married to Charlotte Smith of Cody, Wyo., in 1943. She is also a graduate of Northwestern. They have a two and a half year old son.

DAIRYMEN URGE PASTEURIZATION

Reelect William Plansky
Vice-president At
U. P. Meeting

The Upper Peninsula Dairy Manufacturers association by resolution adopted at its 13th annual convention in Marquette urged the legislature to support a bill which would require the pasteurization of all milk in the state.

Ben Kanuss, of Marquette was reelected president of the association. William Plansky, of Escanaba was reelected vice-president, and also to serve as a director for two years. Walter Nelson of Marquette was reelected secretary-treasurer.

Directors chosen for three-year terms were Bert Obenhoff, of Calumet; E. R. Ballard, of Hancock; Clarence Pelky, of Belknap; town cheese factory, and O'Neil D'Amour, Scott Dairy, Gladstone.

Over 175 members, associate members, dairy industry leaders and visitors attended the convention which opened Friday morning and concluded Saturday evening with the annual dinner in the Hotel Clifton.

Throughout the two-day gathering representatives of the three main phases of dairying in the Upper Peninsula—milk, cheese and ice cream—met to hear talks by men outstanding in their fields and to discuss problems confronting them.

Sunlight Dairy, Sault Ste. Marie was awarded the trophy presented to the plant which showed the greatest improvement during 1946. F. M. Skiver, director of dairying of the state department of agriculture, made the presentation to Mr. Talsmaa, manager of the dairy.

At a general meeting Saturday morning the association adopted a resolution calling for passage of a bill by the state legislature which would require pasteurization of all milk. The resolution:

"Whereas, pasteurization is recognized as the most important single safeguard in the handling for fluid milk, and

"Whereas, the spreading of any-milk-borne disease is suitably controlled by such pasteurization, and

"Whereas, certain consumer groups have had drafted and introduced into the legislature bills providing for the pasteurization of all fluid milk and milk, cream and skimmed milk used in the manufacture of butter and cheese, and
"Whereas, the dairy industry of the Upper Peninsula believes that the enactment of such legislation would enhance the health of the people of this state through the elimination of any milk-borne disease, it is hereby
"Resolved by the Upper Peninsula Dairy Manufacturers association that the enactment of House Bill No. 97 or Senate Bill No. 75 be recommended."

Telephone Pioneers Will Honor Bell At Dinner Next Monday

Escanaba members of the Telephone Pioneers of America and their families will gather at the Ludington hotel Monday night to pay tribute to the memory of Alexander Graham Bell on the 100th anniversary of his birth.

More than 35 persons will attend the dinner meeting honoring the inventor of the telephone. Some 2,850 others will attend similar meetings in eighteen other points in the state at the same time.

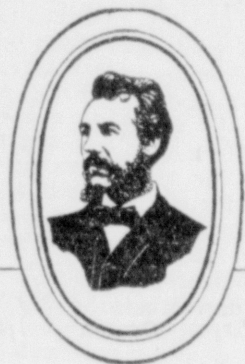

A talk by President Thomas N. Lacy, of the Michigan Bell Telephone Company, at the Detroit meeting will be relayed to the Escanaba dinner. Guests will listen to a special anniversary broadcast on the "Telephone Hour" radio program over the NBC network and will view an anniversary film on the life and career of Bell.

In addition to Escanaba and Detroit, other meetings will be held at Ann Arbor, Pontiac, Saginaw, Flint, Traverse City, Port Huron, Grand Rapids, Lansing, Jackson, Kalamazoo, Benton Harbor, Menominee, Iron Mountain, Ironwood, Houghton, Marquette, and Sault Ste. Marie.

Two books in the Bible are named after women, 37 after men.

"SALADA" Is Flavorful TEA

100th Anniversary of the Birth of Alexander Graham Bell

MARCH 2, 1847

The telephone was born and raised in a laboratory

Alexander Graham Bell's invention of the telephone was the achievement of a trained scientific mind.

Continuous scientific progress to improve telephone communication began with him and has continued ever since. It is carried on today by the six thousand men and women of the Bell Telephone Laboratories.

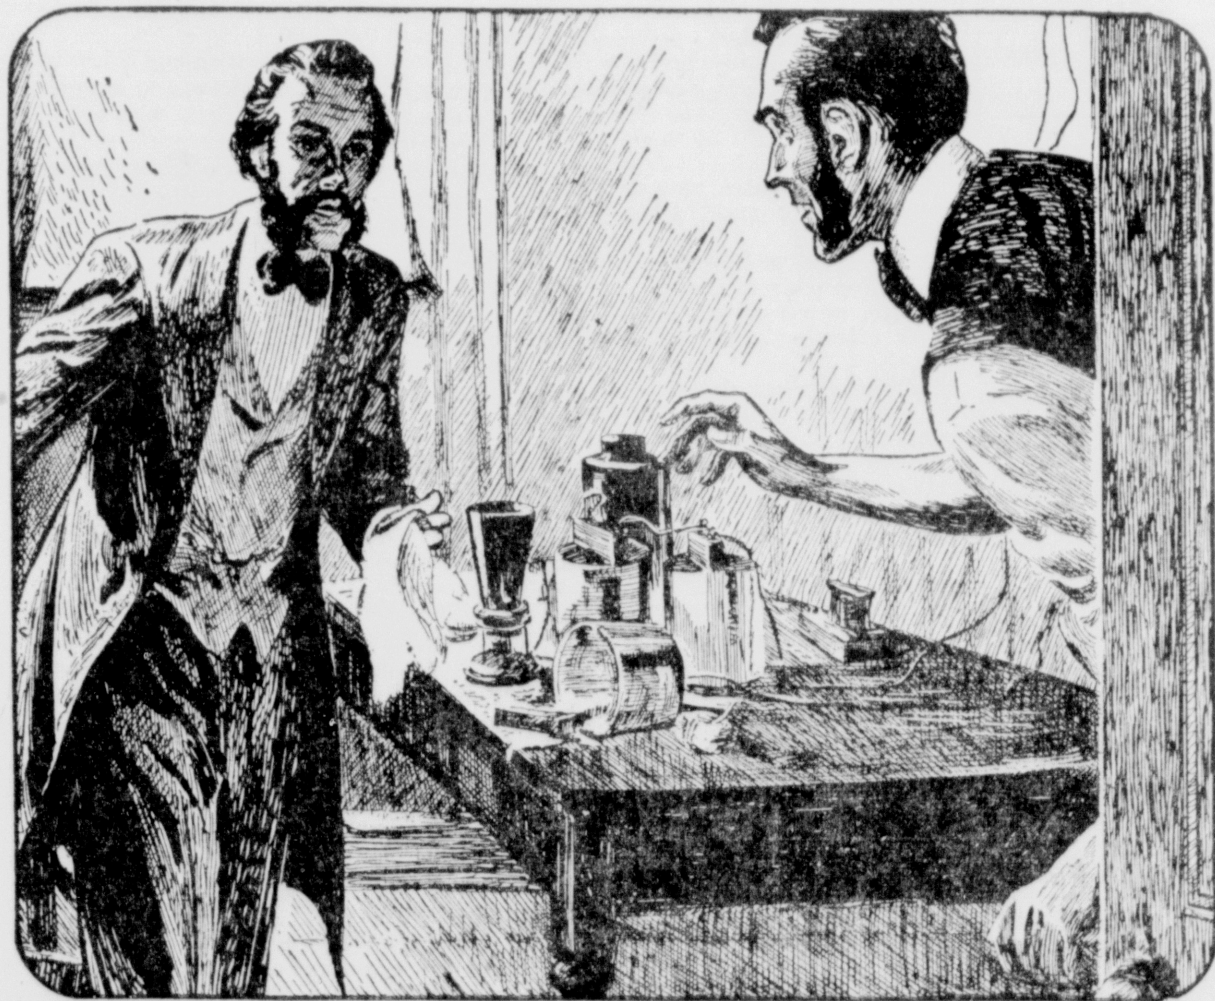

Dr. Bell's thoughts on work and research were given to a number of young people in a graduation address.

"Don't keep going only where others have gone. Leave the beaten track occasionally and dive into the woods. You will be certain to find something that you have never seen before.

"Follow it up, explore all around it; one discovery will lead to another and before you know it you will have something worth thinking about."

That has been the policy of the telephone business from the beginning. It underlies the progress that has been made and the progress that is to come.

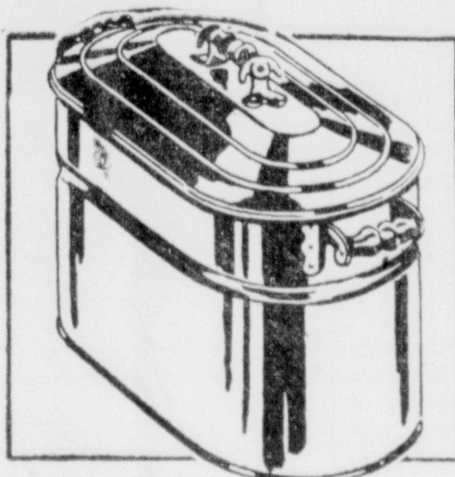

FIRST SENTENCE EVER SPOKEN OVER THE TELEPHONE (on March 10, 1876) was, "Mr. Watson, come here. I want you." It happened when Alexander Graham Bell spilled some battery solution on his clothes and called out for assistance. Thomas A. Watson, his assistant, came rushing in from another room and exclaimed—"Mr. Bell, I heard every word you said—distinctly."

Red Aim in Korea

RUSSIA'S conscription of Koreans in the Soviet occupation zone should be sharply protested by the American government because the Russian action is a brazen violation of the Soviet-American agreement on Korea.

The Russians are reported to be drilling a half million Korean troops for incorporation in the Red Army. When the Americans withdraw from Southern Korea, as they shall be required to do within five years, the Russians, of course, will swallow the zone now occupied by the Americans. They will do it, of course, with Red-trained Korean troops who were forced into military service against their will.

The Soviet maneuvering in Korea is as bold as it is brazen. It is entirely contrary to the principles of the Russian-American agreement, which was designed to unify Korea and to prepare that country for eventual independence, as guaranteed by the Yalta agreement.

Instead of unifying Korea, the present arrangement has served only to divide the country into two parts, without even direct communication between them. Russia has drawn an iron curtain around its zone of occupation in Northern Korea with the obvious purpose of eventually incorporating all of Korea under Soviet rule.

The Russians are making virtually no pretext of their ambitions in Korea. They have closed their zone entirely to outsiders and have admitted that they are proceeding with conscription of Koreans in the northern zone. If the program is permitted to continue, it is inevitable that all of Korea will be swallowed by the Russians, at swordpoint, if necessary, when the Americans withdraw. Then all hopes of Korean independence will be lost.

Von Papen Sentenced

JUSTICE has finally caught up with Franz von Papen, the suave Nazi diplomat, who escaped punishment by the international military tribunal only to be tripped up by his own countrymen who knew von Papen's Nazi activities thoroughly.

Von Papen has been sentenced to eight years at hard labor by a German denazification court, a sentence which probably is tantamount to a life sentence since von Papen, 68 years old, is not in good health. The acquittal of von Papen by the international tribunal was a surprise to the world, but it was based apparently upon an inability to prove that the German diplomat was guilty of any specific international crimes. Before the denazification court, however, his doom was sealed because there it was only necessary to prove that von Papen contributed to the Nazi rule that plunged Germany into the holocaust of the most terrible war in civilization's history. That proof was self-evident.

In addition to his prison sentence, von Papen will be stripped of his personal wealth under the terms of his sentence. That, too, is justice because the Nazi leaders gained their wealth through theft.

Living Costs Rise

FOOD prices are still on the increase, with some commodities reaching the highest levels in history. On the basis of prices being currently paid for hogs in the Chicago market, pork chops will shortly be selling for $1 a pound at retail.

Unfortunately, the advancing prices are not confined to meat alone but also include grains, cotton, eggs and other commodities. The inevitable result will be a further bulge on the cost of living.

The main hope for price reductions is buyer resistance, which in the case of $1 a pound pork chops will undoubtedly develop without the necessity of an organized campaign. If the public refuses to buy commodities that have ascended to the stratosphere, the prices will be forced down.

The rising commodity market, however, darkens the labor peace outlook. With cost of living indexes on the upswing, it is certain that labor will renew demands for wage boosts to meet higher living costs. Unfortunately, such wage boosts will serve only to force the general price level higher. The answer to the unfavorable economic picture is lowering of prices and not raising of wages.

Sugar Racketeers

GOVERNMENT agents have uncovered a huge sugar black market ring in the Midwest involving 30 to 50 persons accused of counterfeiting and theft of one to two million sugar ration stamps.

The amount of sugar diverted into illegal channels by the black market ring is estimated at 5,000,000 pounds. Uncovering the racketeers and the subsequent arrests and indictments constituted a valuable service to the public, which will expect vigorous prosecution and punishment for those convicted of the crime.

Sugar is the last commodity under government ration, and the supply still is inadequate to meet the nation's requirements.

ments. Racketeers who divert any of the available supply to illegal channels are in reality cheating the public at large. It is not an offense to be treated lightly.

Those people who are without sugar for home use because their rations are exhausted have reason to be indignant when they read about the chiselers who counterfeited and sell ration coupons to divert the meager supplies.

Toward Peace by Law

LAWYERS from 22 nations last week formed the International Bar Association. Their first goal is to affiliate with the United Nations and assist it, in a consultative capacity, with the legal aspects of international co-operation.

In general the group's program seems to be aimed at simplifying and unifying some basic procedures, and at offering world citizens protection from certain inequities. This appears to be another step toward international maintenance of peace and justice by law rather than by treaty. The concept of a legal world authority over these vital matters is gaining strength.

The growth of this concept is perhaps one of the most hopeful aspects of the United Nations' brief history. So long as it continues the UN's difficulties seem less discouraging.

THE INFERIOR MALE (Chicago Daily News)

Noting that males are less hardy than females, as measured by the mortality rate from all diseases, Dr. Howard Sprague of Boston suggests that science might investigate this "mysterious lethal factor of maleness."

We aren't sure that this investigation shouldn't be along sociological rather than medical lines. Any improvement in the male condition would have to follow a general admission of his inferiority.

If that came about, then the young red-head next door would risk HER bones hanging head down from the apple tree. Safely through adolescence, our young man would conserve his energy by getting first on the bus seat, and be relieved of the nervous strain of wondering whether he could pay the dinner check.

Later, he could add years to his life by sitting home these winter nights while his sweetie plowed through the drifts to see HIM. Still later, it would be he who gets the anesthetic in the maternity ward.

And finally, as Henry L. Mencken once observed, there can be no equality as long as the wife of a straying husband can expect pity, while a husband, similarly situated, is merely an object of ridicule.

DEFAMATION A LA MODE (Christian Science Monitor)

There is a variety of sneak attack on a man's character which common law takes account of when malicious intent can be proved.

"Have you heard," says the attacker, "that John Doe beats his wife constantly? It isn't true. Don't believe it."

As the word is skillfully spread, the very denials tend to build up a doubt of John Doe, and a good many people end up by suspecting that at least he bullies poor Mrs. Doe unmercifully.

The irresponsible smear attacks of certain Senators on men of ability and integrity have something of this same effect. Preposterous insinuations bring denials, which in turn leave a residue of doubt in the public mind.

Even the sincere denials of honest men can have this effect unless the public is alert. A sound, conservative newspaper which has stanchly championed David E. Lillenthal as head of the Atomic Energy Commission heads a news story: "President Denies Lillenthal Is Red." Ah, says the unwary reader, but he must at least be dangerously pink or the charge would never have been made.

The public's best defense against such baneful influences is determination to listen to facts and not to rumors.

Gentlemen, we offer in evidence Mrs. Doe. Not a black or blue mark on her.

American cities soon will be appropriating money for more trees. Shady deals nobody will object to.

When some of the May flowers appear, any resemblance to the pictures on the packets will be entirely coincidental.

Few teen-agers limit their phone calls, says a telephone company executive. It's their conversation that's the limit.

Remember when mom used to hide money in the old sugar bowl? She's hiding sugar there now.

An extravagant wife makes a poor mother, says a writer. And has the same effect on father.

FAULTY EXPRESSIONS WE SHOULD AVOID (Scrapbook Item)

"His speech was overly long." Most good authorities regard "overly" as dialectal. We should not use it in the meaning of "excessively; too; very." Better say: His speech was too long; he is excessively polite; she is very temperamental.

"I seldom ever see her; I seldom or ever have a headache." Both "seldom ever" and "seldom or ever" are described as illiterate. Better say: I hardly ever see her; I seldom have a headache; injustice seldom if ever is tolerated.

"She's a saleslady at Blank's jewelry store." Would one ever speak of a "saleslady"? The term woman is as respectable in every way as man, child, boy, girl. Avoid all such expressions as "saleslady, lady friend, lady doctor; lady lawyer, lady customer, lady professor."

"He came nearly falling." No; do not use "nearly" if "near" makes sense. Better say: He came near falling. Nearly is correct in the meaning of "almost," as: The game is nearly over; I have been ill for nearly a year.

"I wish he could of come." It is illiterate to say, "could of, may of, should of, might of, would of." Better say: could have, may have, should have, might have, would have.

"It is alright for you to go." The forms "alright, allright, all-right" are not good usage. All right should always be spelled as two words, thus: It is all right for you to go; he found it to be all right.

"That was all the farther we could go." Better say: That was as far as we could go.

"The war ended in nineteen and forty-five." This error becomes apparent when we realize that nineteen and forty-five (19 and 45) total sixty-four. Better say: The war ended in nineteen hundred and forty-five. Also permissible: . . . in nineteen forty-five.

Washington—The new chairman of the senate, the Reverend Peter Marshall, when the senate convened on the first day of Lent offered the following prayer:

"Our Father in heaven, we pray for the members of this body in their several responsibilities. Help them in their offices, in committees, and above all, as they meet here in legislative session. May they feel the weight of their responsibility before thee, and remember the influence of a good example, that all who come to this place may have a stronger faith in government of the people, by the people, for the people. May the senators so speak and act that all who wait upon them and serve them may be inspired, rather than disillusioned, by what they see and hear and are asked to do. Lord Jesus, make thyself real to these men, that each may feel thee sitting beside him and hear thy voice and win thine approval in all things. So help them, God, for Jesus' sake. Amen."

—CONGRESS NEEDS PRAYER—
If ever a Congress needed praying for, it is this 80th Congress. If ever a Congress needed the kind of humility which leads men to seek divine guidance, it is this one.

In the welter of day-to-day politics, most members of Congress fail to see how long is the shadow of what they do or fail to do. They do not understand that the weight of America's economic power is at this moment decisive in a precarious and uncertain world.

In our old Herbert Spencer's dictum, every act has its consequence. On June 17, 1930, the 71st Congress passed public law 361. It was better known as the Smoot-Hawley Tariff Act.

The Smoot-Hawley tariff act raised the tariff wall against the products of other nations. In effect, it slammed America's door on the trade of the rest of the world. It was passed over the protest of a thousand political scientists, economists, experts and technicians who signed a petition pointing out what its consequences would be.

Everything they said, and a great deal more, came true. You can trace the chain reaction—the formation of a sterling trade bloc, the collapse of the dubious economy of Germany and Austria, the onset of the Nazi brutality and, at the end, global war. There were other complicating factors. But the match to the fuse may well have been that act.

—TWO VITAL DECISIONS—
The decisions the 80th Congress takes, or fails to take, can reach as far. If they again ignore America's economic supremacy, then the consequences will be far more dire than those that came after 1930. Two vital decisions must be made by Congress in the days immediately ahead. While they are important in themselves, they are also of the greatest significance as signposts marking the way we intend to follow.

The first is on the confirmation of David E. Lillenthal to be chairman of the Atomic Energy Commission. If Lillenthal is rejected for reasons of prejudice, intolerance and the power of special interests, which will be the real reasons behind all the careful rationalization, it will be a demonstration of failure in self-government. It is a picture of America—all-powerful America—cowering before a shadow. The end may be, in effect, a confession that we do not entrust this new power to any but the military, who look at it, as their profession demands, solely in terms of a weapon of destruction. This is to say nothing of the direct effect on the whole atomic energy project, which is slowing to a standstill.

The second decision is on the budget. If the cut is too deep, then we shall default on our responsibilities. It will come at the expense of our armies of occupation in Japan and Germany. It may come out of the minimum of $350,000,000 that President Truman has requested for relief to fill in the gap left by the ending of UNRRA. It may even come out of the budget for national defense.

This last is a signpost the world will have no trouble in reading. It will be unmistakably clear that we are not prepared to assume our responsibilities. We will be turning our backs on the great world created by the liquidation of the British empire.

These are the decisions. The consequences can be almost as surely known as they were known by the thoughtful men who petitioned against the Smoot-Hawley tariff. At the end of the chain reaction this time will be World War III, and an atomic chain that has no end.

We set aside weeks for this and that purpose, some frivolous, some serious. This might be a good time to designate as "Pray for Congress" week.

"Things Are Pretty Tough, Eh, Chum?"

Good Morning!

—By The Bugler—

OUR TOWN—Talking with A. Anderson of Escanaba, engineer in charge of construction for the state highway department in the Upper Peninsula, we were told that the city of Escanaba public works department is doing more than other cities in keeping our streets free of snow this winter.

"I've been in every city in the Upper Peninsula this winter, and Escanaba seems to be able to get the snow off its main street faster and better than other towns," he said.

We pointed out to Anderson that his comment was contrary to the many complaints we had heard in Escanaba about the slowness in clearing our streets of snow. Anderson said politely that he didn't know about that, and he was only reporting on his observations, gained in traveling from one town to another in his work.

CHANGING TIMES—While discussing the subject of snow removal with Anderson, the thought occurred to us that perhaps because of adequate snow removal many old-timers get the idea that winter storms "are nothing like they were when I was a boy."

We have had early-day residents of Escanaba point to pictures in their photograph albums with the nostalgic assertion, "if you want to see a real winter scene, just look at this." Pictured would be Escanaba's Ludington street in "the good old days," with the snow piled in high drifts along the streets. In front of stores and shops the snow banks would be higher than the windows, and entrance to the store would be through a narrow path cut in the drift.

"Now that was a real winter," the old-timer would say.

NOT SO SLOW—You don't have weather like that any more, old-timers will tell you.

We have the same weather—but the city keeps the snow hauled from the main street and it doesn't look as if we were having "an old-fashioned winter." Combine a real snowstorm and a breakdown in city snow removal equipment, however, and Escanaba's main street would look just as "old-fashioned" as it did 30 years ago.

There have been complaints this winter that the city's snow loader is slow, and that if we had other equipment—say a snow-go—the removal work would be faster. Yet we have Mr. Anderson's assurance that Escanaba is doing as good, if not better, job as any city in the Upper Peninsula.

All of the towns, of course, are having equipment trouble. Because of the equipment shortage many trucks are running long past their average period of operation. Breakdowns are therefore to be expected. It's the same situation the motorist encounters with his old car.

NEED SCRAPING—By this time the reader may think we are going overboard in our praise of the city and its snow removal crews. Such is not the intention. And just to prove that we believe there are certain things which should and could be done, we'll enumerate a few.

First on the list is the need of better ice removal. This is done by scraping and applying chlorides which soften and break up what

INTO THE PAST

Ten Years Ago

Senator Prentiss M. Brown of Michigan cannot equal Senator Copeland's boast of 30,000 letters on the supreme court issue, but he can point to a stack of 3,000 letters in his office which urge him to defend and oppose President Roosevelt's plan for enlarging the membership of the court.

Mrs. E. J. MacMartin, 112 Lake Shore drive, president of the Escanaba Woman's club, will attend the fourth annual Woman Congress to be held March 10 and 11 at the Palmer House in Chicago.

Police puzzled tonight over the killing of Humphrey Pearson, 42-year-old writer of such screening-hit scenarios as "Ruggles of Red Gap" found shot dead in bed in his desert cottage.

Preparations are being made for the adoption of civil service regulations for employees of the city of Escanaba.

Twenty Years Ago
The McNary-Haugen farm relief bill, the proud handiwork of the western farm bloc, and the Southern Democrats, was consigned to the waste basket today by presidential veto.

It was decided, at a conference yesterday between Coroner G. C. Bartley and Chief of Police John J. Toland, that an official inquiry will be held into the circumstances surrounding the fire, Wednesday night, at the Harry McLaughlin home, 913 First avenue north, which resulted in the death of four small children.

The fate at this session of legislature to harness the Colorado river at Boulder Canyon hangs upon the possibility of invoking a cloture to smother the senate filibuster.

H. H. Shepeck, assistant general manager for the I. Stephenson Co. Trustees, at Wells, has returned from a visit at Biloxi, Miss., and New Orleans.

Ice may remain. If the chloride is mixed with sand, it helps prevent dangerous skidding. We believe the city could remove accumulated ice at least at intersections. This would give pedestrians a break—and we don't mean fractures, of which they have suffered too many this winter.

WALK WITH CARE—Perhaps it would be well to enlarge on the subject of scraping and sanding crosswalks on the main street. There is no doubt they are dangerous to life and limb in their present slippery condition. Perhaps nothing is being done by the city to correct the condition because it lacks manpower, or scrapers, or chloride. Frankly, we don't think those are valid reasons—if those are the reasons. Even if the ice had to be removed on crosswalks with pick and shovel, and sand applied by hand, it would benefit every man and woman who must cross main street intersections.

We've observed the aged—and even the not-so-aged—hesitate for a long time before venturing out through traffic on the glare of ice. They realize the danger. Fractured bones require long months to heal.

UNUSUAL WINTER—As we have pointed out before, if there had not been adequate snow removal in Escanaba this winter the snow banks and drifts would be piled head-high along Ludington street.

It has been an "unusual" winter. Snowstorms have been violent, the snowfall heavy. There was the post-Christmas Day storm, followed by others only a little less serious in their effect on traffic. All of these storms have been handled by efficient snow

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington—Many states of the United States require every dairy cow within their borders to be tested for tuberculosis once a year. Governor Tom Dewey has now taken the revolutionary step of elevating human beings to the same level as cows.

From now on, every man, woman and child in New York state not only will get a tuberculosis test but also will find state hospitals available for their care if necessary.

At a time when Republicans in Congress are pinching the federal budget even to the extent of wiping out the school milk program, the Republican Governor of New York has quadrupled his health budget in order to battle tuberculosis.

He is also coordinating New York hospitals so that certain institutions in healthy counties such as Herkimer, which are virtually empty, will be taken over by the state. This will prevent the construction of more hospitals at a time when building materials are critical and their use would interfere with Veterans' Housing.

NOTE—Worst tuberculosis patch in New York state is among the Negro population of Harlem. Migration from the warm South, plus crowded living conditions has made Harlem one of the worst T. B. areas in the U. S. A.

—RANKIN IN REVERSE—
During the long years under Roosevelt, the best friend and ally of minority Republicans in the house of representatives was rootin'-tootin' Congressman John Rankin of Mississippi. His barbs at his fellow Democrats always brought howls of laughter and rounds of applause from the Republicans across the aisle. They continually goaded the pint-sized Mississippian into more harangues.

Now that the Republicans are in the saddle, however, things are different. Rankin isn't the ally he used to be. In fact, he's almost more critical of the Republicans than of the northern Democrats. Talking in the house cloakroom the other day, the gentleman from Mississippi opined:

"In nearly one month the great and glorious GOP senate, the senate which was going to do everything, has to its credit three major accomplishments: Unanimous confirmation of two Democrats—John Marshall and Fanny Perkins—to high posts, and the granting of a 60-day vacation with pay to Bilbo.

"Let's see, there are 51 Republican senators, and if we multiply that number by $1,250, monthly salary of a member, we get the grand total of $63,650—about $21,250 per 'accomplishment.'"

—BOB ALLEN'S NEW BOOK—
Bob Allen, who used to do a job on Washington via this column, today brings out a job on the cities of the U. S. A. His new book, "Our Fair City," does to the sprawling Hogwaddies of bossism and bizarre architecture which we call cities what Lincoln Steffens did on the same subject twenty years ago.

Bob has corralled a stable of newsmen all the way from Boston to Butte, and under his editorial direction, they have dissected the bosses that run the cities, the newspapers that tolerate and sometimes conspire with the bosses, the red-light districts that pay tribute to the bosses—and so on down the line.

The book makes you realize that while we throw stones at governments in foreign countries we could do a little stone throwing right here at home.

—VETS HOUSING CRACKDOWN—
Home builders who have been defying federal regulations on Veterans' Housing had better start consulting their lawyers.

Certain builders in the Denver and Cleveland areas are being haled into court to show why they have failed to file sales reports on housing begun before controls were lifted last December 24. This housing, numbering more than 35

DAILIES GAINING IN CIRCULATION

Morning Newspapers Hit 20,515,908; Lineage In Advertising Up

New York, (AP)—Upsetting last year's predictions of declining circulation, America's daily newspapers entered the year 1947 in a stronger position, both in circulation and advertising, according to a survey in history, Editor and Publisher said in its International Year Book Number this week.

The newspaper Trade Magazine said 1946 marked a rebirth of interest in the dailies as an advertising medium and that "the success story would have been even greater in 1946 if newspaper had been more plentiful."

Newsprint Pinch Felt Although newsprint supplies were 22 per cent greater than in pre-war years, so many new users appeared during the war daily newsprint consumption last year was only 45 per cent greater than in 1941, Editor and Publisher continued.

"Few dailies had all the paper they wanted because of the unprecedented demand from circulation and advertising," the article declared.

It termed one of the healthiest signs the growth in number of dailies during 1946—an addition of 14 for a total of 1,763—and the new high in total circulation, which saw a five per cent increase over 1945 "to a record high of 50,927,505 daily newspaper readers despite the disappearance of sales—stimulating war news."

During the last year, morning newspaper circulation soared to 20,515,908 and evening to 30,381,597. Gains were general in every state, the magazine reported.

"Another healthy sign for newspapers," Editor and Publisher continued, "appeared in the rekindled interest of advertisers both local and national. Advertising line had increased gradually during the war years but even the experts were unprepared for the flood of copy that bested newspapers in 1946."

A study of overall lineage figures for 52 cities showed a 24.3 per cent gain over 1945 and placed 1946 second only to 1928 and 1929, the industry's biggest years in advertising volume. During the same period, general advertising jumped 8.2 per cent.

"In other words," the magazine declared, "this was the greatest year for national advertising in newspapers since the start of network radio's boom."

Costs Level Off It added that the trend for 1947 might be forecast by the last month in 1946 which, Editor and Publisher said, had the biggest newspaper advertising volume of any December in history.

"Newspapers during 1946 were bedeviled in some cities by strikes, as was practically all industry," the article continued. "Wage increases to all newspaper workers brought newspaper salaries to an all-time high."

E. & L. S. Railmobile Collides With Truck

The E. & L. S. Railmobile and a truck owned and driven by Peter Jaeger, 406 South 16th street, collided at a crossing of the E. & L. S. main line and a logging road at Spur 22, a quarter of a mile beyond Hendricks, near the Marquette county line, yesterday at 2 p. m. No one was injured.

Accompanied by John Thompson, 322 North 14th street, Jaeger was hauling in a load of tie-cuts when he drove onto the crossing. According to witnesses, a more serious result was prevented only by the fact that the truck's front wheels were on the slippery surface of the rail at the moment of the impact, which allowed the truck, offering little resistance, to be slid clear of the track by the Railmobile.

and the rising price of newsprint which jumped to $85 a ton when OPA relinquished its controls, the cost of publishing daily newspapers rose to a record high, the trade paper said, but added:

"However, 1947 should see a leveling off in this trend if the general price structure in the country is gradually reduced. Early indications are that this will happen and that labor-management relations will gradually return to normal."

TRAFFIC SAFETY MEETING HELD

Insurance Men Confer With Police Chief On Problem

Education of the motorist, slower speeds on Ludington street, installation of stop lights on Ludington at 11th and 14th streets—these and other suggestions were made by Escanaba Police Chief M. F. Ettenhofer to the Escanaba Insurance Agent's Association at its regular monthly meeting held yesterday.

The Association's safety committee is making a traffic study with the intention of going to the council with definite recommendations.

"I am of the opinion that education is perhaps the best method to be used in preventing traffic accidents," the police chief said. "They are doing a good job along this line in Senior high school classes, and it would be a good thing if adults too would attend these sessions."

James Davidson is chairman of the Association's safety committee that had invited the police chief to meet with it to discuss measures which might be taken to reduce the number of traffic accidents.

Other recommendations of the police chief included:

Reducing the speed limit on Ludington street to 20 miles an hour, and erecting large signs at Ludington and Stephenson advising motorists of the speed limit; the elimination of all U-turns on cross walks; and the installation of stop lights on Ludington at 11th and 14th streets. The lights would tend to reduce speed of the cars and permit safer pedestrian crossing, the chief said.

He also advocated compelling all motorists to come to a complete stop at all arterial stop signs; and suggested that semi-annual check-ups of the mechanical condition of cars would be helpful.

Voelker as lead dog and stud dog, Sassafra, a young lady of four months, and Silver King, Voelker's prize leader. The Alaskan Malemute is one of the oldest of all dog breeds.

Marquette Kennels Widely Known For Trained Malemutes

Fifty years ago, at the time of the Alaskan gold-rush, George Voelker of Ishpeming, father of Paul Voelker, manager of the M'Loot Kennels at Marquette, was buying up all the big mastiffs and Newfoundlands around Ishpeming and shipping them to Seattle and Vancouver for the gold-hungry hordes Alaska bound.

Today Paul Voelker is raising and training Alaskan Malemutes and shipping them out from the M'Loot Kennels to dog lovers between Florida and Seattle, Nova Scotia and California. Heat or cold or location makes no difference to the Malemute, as long as there's a family to belong to, he's at home.

"The Malemute," Voelker says, "is not a one-man dog. The malemute's a one-family dog."

There is an almost universal belief that the northern dogs, those dogs lumped generally under the erroneous title "Eskimo dogs" are wolfish creatures, untrustworthy and undependable, fit only for the bitter, brutal life in the far north trails, amenable only to the discipline of the whip, fear force.

Nothing could be further from the truth, for it was by the character and the background of the Alaskan Malemute that Paul Voelker was first taken, rather than by the great shaggy beauty of the dog.

Voelker has spent a good share of his life in the raising and the training of dogs and other animals, his experience covering sporting dogs and working dogs such as the German shepherd and Doberman Pinscher. By his own admission he was looking for something—and he finally found it in the oldest breed of dog on the American continent, probably and shipping them out from the M'Loot Kennels to dog lovers between Florida and Seattle, Nova Scotia and California. Heat or cold or location makes no difference to the Malemute, as long as there's a family to belong to, he's at home.

The Malemute is a big dog, standing 27 inches high, some of them, and weighing up to 85 pounds, with alert, high set ears, a black and white or wolfishly colored coat, and a plume of a curving tail.

It is not to be confused with the Siberian husky which is also recognized by the AKC, and which is a lighter, leggier sledge dog, with a high wolf strain, imported from Siberia and used for racing and for fast light running.

The Malemute originated in the Seward Peninsula and was originally named after the Mahlemult tribe of the Inuit people who fostered the breed. According to Voelker, bone and ivory carving which archeologists place as 12 to 20,000 years old, show the Malemute essentially as he is today. He was not raised as a "wolf dog," either.

"Don't forget," Voelker says, "that the Alaskan Malemute for untold generations was raised with the Indians, pups and kids on the floor together. I've seen little Indian babies crawling in among the pups to nurse at the old mother dog."

Voelker is a little touchy about the implications of that word "wolf" with regard to his dogs. "Look at their eyes," he says, "they're a round-eyed dog—well, almond shaped, then—more nearly round than slanted. They don't have the eyes of a wolf."

And that is true. They don't have the eyes of the wolf, and though they have the easy, loping gait and the shaggy coat of the wolf, they have the dignity and withdrawn wisdom of the human philosopher or of the dog who has been wise for generations in the ways of men.

Voelker himself, in whom from the sharp and hairy look of him, and the straight-footed loping walk, there would seem to be more wolf than in his dogs, calls them gentlemen.

"They're gentlemen by nature," Voelker says, and refers to his famous lead dog Gentleman Jim, now showing and pulling in Nova Scotia. "Why, the male dogs will take care of the puppies just as the female will. And that's the mark of a gentleman."

Eight Freight Cars Derailed On DSS&A

Derailling of eight freight cars of a 50-car train near Allenville, 10 miles northwest of St. Ignace, blocked traffic on the main line of the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic railroad Sunday night.

Two cars containing carbide caught fire and were completely destroyed after burning late into the night. Michigan Bell Telephone Co. lines along the track were burned out and service to Sault Ste. Marie, Escanaba and Houghton was disrupted until emergency repairs were made after 8:30 p. m.

No one was injured in the wreck, which was caused by a burned out journal on the leading wheel of the trailing truck on the third car in the train. That car, carrying a heavy load of lumber, was the first to leave the rails. It caused the seven succeeding cars to topple over and pile up behind it.

The locomotive was able to proceed to St. Ignace.

In Hollywood
BY GENE HANDSAKER
Hollywood—John Charles Thomas, who is sufficiently hep to short-haired music that he recently wowed a hospital audience by ad-libbing the line "OPEN THE DOOR, RICHARD!" in the middle of a long-haired song, is going to be a very busy baritone.

Swiveling about in a leather-padded swivel chair, and unhooking spectacles having a remarkably thick brown frame, the big, hearty star of opera and the concert stage looked up from a sheaf of papers freshly arrived from his New York manager. They listed concert dates which Thomas happily highlighted for me thus—

A spring tour (March 5-April 8) spanning from Portland, Ore., to Portland, Maine, and including stops at Toronto, Battle Creek, and Washington, D. C.

Performances in Australia, from Melbourne (May 17) to Dunedin (Aug. 7).

"I'm hoping to go there on one of the small fast Swedish freighters," Thomas boomed, "then carry only 12 passengers. We'd have the run of the boat and the use of the piano."

The singer explained that his pianist, Roy Urseth, has been with him only a year, and that, since Thomas will be carrying 240 songs in his head, counting encores, they could employ the time rehearsing together across the bounding main.

Then, next January, Thomas will start a transcontinental concert tour by private railroad car—the first artist thus to travel, he believes, since Paderewski.

The 86-foot Pullman will have two main bedrooms with single beds for the singer and his wife; a connecting shower; and smaller compartments for his manager, his accompanist, and a maid. Galley quarters will accommodate a chef and a steward.

In a lounge at the aft end will go a piano—probably the bleached-pine upright that stands now in his office—whereat Thomas and his pianist can practice while crossing the rolling prairie. The tour will start in San Diego and hit every large town in the land.

The 197-pound Thomas, who has a large round face and thinning hair, is a colorful man in every way, including sartorially. He wore a bright yellow sport shirt, a maroon slip-on sweater, and an orange cowboy neckerchief with a slip-over silver clasp. "The male pheasant is colorful," he explains.

COWELL BLDG. MUNISING PHONE 162RESIDENTS SNOWBOUND*Storm Holds Munising Persons At Marquette And Ishpeming

Munising—Many Munising residents who motored to Ishpeming for the National Ski meet Sunday, found it impossible to make the return trip to Munising that evening and were snowbound either at Ishpeming or at Marquette when wind and snow made M-28 and highway 94 impassable.

A report from the Marquette county road commission stated 18 to 24 inches of snow covered the highways east of Marquette.

The snowstorm which hit Munising late Saturday and increased in tempo Sunday morning didn't strike the Marquette-Ishpeming area until around noon Sunday, just before the ski meet was scheduled to begin, it was reported. Striking the area with intensity, the storm caused cancellation of the meet, but word reached many Munising residents too late to prevent them from making the trip northwest.

Local persons snowbound at either of the two cities were unable to reach Munising until late Monday afternoon. Some residents, it was reported, returned by train, reaching Wetmore early Monday evening and then had to walk into Munising.

Included in the local persons who were snowbound were: Barbara Gambin, Mrs. Arthur Miller, Elaine O'Brien, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Swan, Grace Knox.

Anabelle Morrison, Ed Morrison, Billy Shiry, George Gollinger, Ray Morrison, Jack Gollinger, Paul Arsenault.

Gene Lewis, Bud Tinkham, Pat Hendrickson, Eleanor Johnson, Irene Johnson, Gwendolin Olson, Nancy Wood, Evelyn Hughes.

This group would include those who are deaf, hard of hearing, cardiac, epileptic, diabetic, partially sighted, those with disabled arms and legs, and the homebound. Many persons suffering from these handicaps have already been helped vocationally, it was reported.

Radio In Review

By John Crosby

Hollywood—The nations two most popular art forms, radio and the movies, are owned and controlled by New York front offices and New York banks but the creative processes are all highly concentrated in this land of the Lotos. The centralization of culture has had a sweeping and possibly uplifting effect on our exteriors—our women's clothes, our interior decoration, our speech and our mannerisms. Its effect on our thinking is, at best, questionable.

In the long run, radio programs and movies originate with the writers, and Hollywood is not a good place for writers. As a matter of fact, the concentration of the nations best writers in any American city is hardly a good idea; in Hollywood it's particularly bad. There is a state of mind about southern California, not necessarily an evil one but a pervasive one. An idea born in this balmy, mild, damp climate comes out in pastel shades. Honeysuckle gets into a writer's prose, sticks to the adverbs, smells up the plots. The same idea born in New York, where the subways are crowded, the gin is strong and the golf courses, for all practical purposes non-existent, is more vigorous, possibly uglier, but certainly sharper. There's nothing the matter with the California brand of idea (John Steinbeck is an excellent example of the pastel-shaded writer who has done magnificently with the California idea), except that if all the writers gravitate out here, our ideas will become lopsided.

Perhaps the easiest but also the most unfair example of this localization of ideas is the Hollywood reference, that is, Hollywood and Vine, the Brown Derby, the Hollywood smog, the Hollywood automobile accident rate. Actually, all good radio writers and producers strain valiantly to avoid this sort of thing. But the Hollywood sort of mind is difficult and perhaps impossible to avoid.

A prominent radio producer pointed out that nothing happens to writers out here, at least nothing resembling the experiences of people outside Hollywood. The writers' options are picked up or dropped; their swimming pools are completed or not completed; their horses run the wrong way at Santa Anita. But the writers are so insulated from cold, hunger and poverty that the struggle for resistance, which motivates most of us, is remote. Consequently, the problems of most radio programs are either very tiny (Orle ate too much Christmas dinner) or outsize. ("He got the secret formula for the atom bomb. If we don't head him off, New York City will be in ruins by morning.")

You can't make up what happens to the boy next door unless you have had some experiences with the boy next door. Out here, the boy next door is likely to be another writer. Radio producers, I find, at least the good ones, are as conscious of this as anyone else. A producer who had better be nameless, informs me that his search for good radio writers is constant and heartbreaking. Writers, he says, are interested in their contracts and in their salaries but not in their work. For obvious reasons, they are eager to please the producer but an eagerness to please is hardly conducive to real creative writing.

This is the logical result of the radio writing system. Since a script is a collaborative job with four or five writers, a producer, a comedian and sometimes the guest star all contributing ideas, the individual writer's interest in the total work is not that of, say, a novelist whose novel is entirely his own. Also, the writer gets no credit outside the trade in spite of the fact that no actor could exist without him.

Radio writers, I find, are neurotic, keen-witted specialists. Their appreciation of writing is highly developed. Just as an engineer sees more in a bridge than you or I, they see more in a joke than you or I. Writers at a Jack Benny rehearsal, I discovered, laughed harder at their own jokes than anyone else. If there were any gags in that script (and it was a very funny script), that failed to amuse the average listener, I'm sure Mr. Benny's writers could have explained to him with overpowering logic why the joke was funny and why he should have laughed.

Lost Purse Returned To Owner By Finder

They are specialists, you see, living in a world of other specialists, in a land far removed from most of the people who hear them. Their contact with the listener is a set of figures, a Hooper rating, or a sales chart, which tells them nothing about the hopes, the interests, the fears, the joys, the sorrows of the world outside.

MANY ATTEND SPORTS MEETPredator Hunt Planned For Next Sunday By Club

Approximately sixty persons attended a meeting of a sportsman's club now in process of organization here Monday evening.

A report on proposed by-laws was made by a committee named earlier but action on them was put over until a later meeting. Discussion of a name for the club also was made and action deferred.

It was decided by the group present to admit women and juveniles to membership. Membership of the club is to be county-wide. Affiliated with the Northern Sportsman's Association or some other group of clubs will likely be made.

About 30 members were signed up at the meeting this week and all joining by the time of the next meeting, two weeks from Monday, will be accorded charter membership in the club.

Two films, Wild Wings and On Point, were shown to the group by a member of the Conservation Department.

Tentative plans for a predator hunt to be held next Sunday in the Whitefish area were made. A conservation officer is to be invited to accompany the hunters.

PRISON TERM
Must Spend Five Years
At Marquette For Recent Crime

Pleading guilty Monday afternoon to a charge of breaking and entering with intent to commit larceny, Ralph J. Gould, 26, of Manistique, was sentenced to a five year prison term at Marquette. Earl Clifton, 19, of Garden, pleading guilty to participation in the same crime, was given a two year sentence and then placed on probation.

The two were arraigned before Judge Herbert Runnels at a special term of Schoolcraft county court, held at Sault Ste. Marie, and charged with entering a building on the Hancock & Richards sawmill property early on the morning of February 2 for the purpose of stealing gasoline from a tractor stored there. According to earlier admission of the crime, they had drained the tank of the tractor and lit a match to see if their container was full. The match set fire to the gasoline, the building was destroyed and the tractor, which was purchased new last fall, was badly damaged. The two were arrested that same morning and bound over to circuit court. They had been held in the custody of the sheriff ever since.

The sentences of the two were based on the breaking and entering charge and the resulting fire was regarded as accidental.

A checkup of Gould's record reveals a long list of crimes dating back to 1934. Included are crimes listed as juvenile delinquency, larceny and grand larceny and the serving of prison sentences at both Jackson and Ionia. Included among the crimes was the conviction on a larceny count while serving in the army.

Young Clifton, on the other hand, was looked upon as one who had for the moment, fallen into bad company. He had never been in trouble before and had made friends for the loss occasioned by the fire to the extent of $500 as payment for repairs on the tractor.

Attending the couple were Miss Mary Nardi, friend of the couple, and Albert Spina, brother of the bride.

Modern Amazons
Have A Bad Fit

Richmond, Va.—(AP)—The Valentine Museum, preparing for a fashion exhibit of "150 years of brides," asked a local department store for models. The store was willing and the girls were game, but: (1)—Their shoulders were too broad; (2)—Their waists were too full, and (3)—Their frames were too tall. Similar difficulties were encountered in borrowing a steel and fabric mannequin from a gentlemen's apparel store for a Confederate uniform. The first two, man size, were too large. A fitting was obtained on a boy's model.

His Home Here

Cycling is not recommended in these parts at this time of the year for reasons too obvious to record here, but when a lad is homesick and has a bike at his disposal, it has its advantages. Take the recent experience of Richard Casteel, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Casteel, of Hiawatha township, for instance.

The youth had been working at Marquette and on Saturday noon, when his task was completed, weighed the proposition of whether he should invest a part of his earnings in a bike or in bus fare. He bought the bike and started for home.

It was during a recent cold snap and there was plenty of snow on the road, but he set out shortly before 1 o'clock in the afternoon and at 3:45 a. m. was pounding on the door of his parental home in Hiawatha township and, like Richard of the current song hit, asking his mother to "Please open the door."

His mother did and then proceeded to feed the prodigal son, not on veal, but everything else in the pantry, for Richard had worked up an appetite.

The dinner will be followed by initiatory work conducted by the lodge degree team under the direction of Otner Schuster, exalted ruler. George Schweikert and Bernard Cook are co-chairmen in charge of general arrangements.

Following are the candidates to be initiated: W. C. Ammann, Sagwald Carlson, G. L. Denny, A. H. Dybevik, E. A. Foye, Francis McNamara, William Maies, P. R. Metz, Oliver Mickelson, N. Parente, R. L. Pointer, H. Snyder, G. Wadsworth, John Wickwire and Ian McKilligan.

continuousErnie Smith Has Experience With Big Killer Whale

Ernest H. Smith, prominent Manistique grocer, now vacationing in Delray Beach, Florida where he is a mate aboard the charter boat, "Lollypop", had an interesting experience a week ago when his boat hooked a huge killer whale off the Florida coast.

Smith revealed the incident in a letter to a friend this week. His story follows:

"Monday afternoon, Feb. 17, while we were out fishing one of the members of our party called our attention to what he thought was a sailfish breaking water a distance away. We went over that way and found ourselves surrounded by three large killer whales. It was the dorsal fin that he had seen, which was between six and eight feet long, and the whales were about 50 feet long.

The best part of the story is that suddenly one rolled up in back of the boat and the hook on one of our lines caught on the back of the whale. We had a fish we didn't want. One of the men had a camera aboard and he shot a roll and a half of film. I hope he got some good shots.

"We had the hook in the whale 10 minutes and by following the line we were able to maneuver the boat so that the whale could not come up under us. Then the whale went down and broke the line so we have a hook in the killer whale. Later in the afternoon we ran into another school of 14. In this group were some large ones and some pups about 12 feet in length, but we didn't go too close this time as we had enough adventure for one day. The party we were carrying that day were all from Alma, Mich. The man who caught the whale was Jay J. Swarthout, who is staying at Fort Lauderdale."

CITY WATER
DEPT. IN REDCouncil Demands That
Leaks In Revenue
Be Stopped

There is a $7,000 deficit in the city water department accounts and something should be done about it, City Manager James Dickson told the city council at its regular meeting Monday evening.

This deficit is not due to delinquent accounts, he said. Collections, he told them, were close to 100 per cent. He blamed the fact that so many people are paying a flat rate for service and that the minimum rate is far too low as the chief cause contributing to the deficit.

The council discussed the matter at length and the sentiment was general that the manager's suggestion that a minimum rate of $1 for water service be charged. It was also urged that faulty meters be repaired and put back into service at the earliest possible moment.

Definite action on this matter will be taken in the near future, the council decided.

O. K. Crossing Signal

The council voted to pay one-fourth the cost of setting up a flash signal system at the railway crossing on Chippewa avenue, the state highway department to pay the remainder and the railway company to service it and keep it in operation. A limit of the city's contribution to this improvement was set at $825.

Insurance on various city properties was renewed with the Manistique Agency and the Martin Insurance Agency.

Mayor William Berger was instructed to appoint a committee to investigate rates charged the city for electricity, the committee to submit a report before the close of the fiscal year.

Discuss Parking Meters

The council discussed the matter of installing parking meters, but took no action. Certain meter manufacturing companies had proposed that they install meters on streets where parking is heaviest and that they be permitted to collect half of the proceeds until the meters are paid for.

Letters from several cities where meters are in use were read. Opinions concerning them varied. The council took no action on the proposal.

A resolution was passed calling for the purchase of two new trucks on a sealed bid basis.

A certain group of city employees petitioned the council for a 5 cent per hour increase in wages. The council declined to take action at this time, it being stated that such matters should be presented at the beginning of the fiscal year.

Plans For Pro Baseball Club Will Be Discussed Here Tonight

ALL ESCANABA FANS INVITED

Meeting Scheduled At City Hall; Starts At 8:00 p. m.

A general meeting of all local baseball enthusiasts and Escanaba businessmen interested in the formation of an Escanaba entry in a proposed Class C league of organized baseball will be held this evening at eight o'clock at the city hall council chambers.

Clinton Hodges, now of Sault, Ontario, who operated the Ogdenburg, New York club in the Border league last season, will attend the meeting and will outline the progress being made in other Upper Peninsula communities for the development of baseball clubs in those cities. He also will explain the workings of organized baseball leagues, the possibilities of a successful league in the U. P. and other pertinent information.

The proposed league would operate on a daily basis throughout the baseball season, each club playing a schedule of 100 to 120 games. The teams in the league would, of course, be professional teams with a salary limitation of $1800 per month per club.

In a previous visit to Escanaba, where he conferred with a small group of local baseball enthusiasts, Hodges declared flatly that a league of organized baseball in the Upper Peninsula would prove highly successful. He also emphasized that it would produce good business for the towns in which the league would operate and that it would be a powerful factor in stimulating junior baseball and independent baseball in the area.

The organization of such a league would provide many opportunities for youngsters seeking a career in professional baseball, Hodges said at that time.

It has been estimated that it would require about $5,000 to launch a professional baseball club but the funds invested probably would increase in value as the club developed.

Motor City Racer Johnny Seymour To Follow The Hosses

Detroit, Feb. 25 (AP)—A veteran motor city racer has foreseen the automobile to follow the horses.

Seymour held the U. S. motorcycle racing championship in 1925 but took up automobile racing after he broke a leg in a motorcycle race in Honolulu.

He entered six of the Memorial Day classics at the Indianapolis, Ind., automobile speedway but never had the luck to finish and gave up automobile racing after he narrowly escaped death in a flaming crash in 1939.

Manistique—The Hubs will meet the Beau Chateau five of Negaunee Saturday night in the old gym at Manistique.

The Negaunee team is one of two teams in the Upper Peninsula which holds a victory over the Tom Swifts team of Bark River, while the Hubs after suffering a number of close defeats home revamped their team, will show a number of new players in their lineup and are expected to be at top strength for the first time this year.

Miss Wall shot 38-38-76 to finish one stroke ahead of Mrs. Mildred "Babe" Zaharias, the women's national amateur champion, and diminutive Polly Riley of Fort Worth, Texas.

Trailing the leaders with 80's were Peggy Kirk of Findlay, Ohio, and Margaret Gunther, Memphis, Tenn., Maureen Ruttle, the British star, finished sixth with 40-41-81.

Kentucky Wildcats Accept Garden Bid

New York, Feb. 25 (AP)—The mighty University of Kentucky Wildcats, winners of last year's tourney and one of the top five in the country this season, have accepted an invitation to play in the National Invitational Basketball tournament in Madison Square Garden.

Kentucky is the second team named for the blue ribbon event which starts in the Garden, March 15. The acceptance of West Virginia, which boasts a 15-1 record, was announced yesterday.

Another Operation To Put DiMaggio Back In Yank Swing

San Juan, P. R., Feb. 25 (AP)—Joe DiMaggio, whose injuries have kept him out of the New York Yankee's opening day lineups in six of the eight years he has been in the major leagues, will be flown to the United States tomorrow for a second operation upon his heel.

Larry MacPhail, president of the club, said that DiMaggio would go to Baltimore where Dr. George Bennett of Johns Hopkins would wield the knife "in the next several days." (The Baltimore Post-Examiner)

More hospital has a reservation for DiMaggio for Saturday.

DiMaggio was operated upon in New York on Jan. 6 for the removal of a bone spur from his left heel and Dr. Mal Stevens, club physician, said the return visit to the hospital was to graft skin over the original opening to facilitate its healing.

"Clinically speaking," Dr. Stevens added, "there is no doubt that Joe will be in the lineup on opening day." He said he expected DiMaggio to rejoin the Yankees when they reach St. Petersburg, Fla., on March 11.

"I feel wonderful," Eddie beamed.

"Haven't had a single pain since I had that disc removed from my spine last summer. I'm ready to go."

Manager Steve O'Neill had a pleased grin as he noted Mayo's recovery from the sciatic condition that crippled the 33-year old infielder last season. O'Neill spent the last 15 minutes of the press drill hitting grounders.

Mayo, a sparkplug in the Tiger pennant drive.

"He looks great doesn't he?" O'Neill boomed jubilantly. "I think he looks even faster than he did before and that won't hurt any either."

After the workout, Mayo confided that he feels better this spring than he has for the past five seasons.

ISHPEMING SKI JUMP ON TODAY

City Prepares To Close Up For Event; Riders Get In Practice

BY CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Ishpeming, Mich., Feb. 25 (AP)—Officials looked forward to holding the National Ski jumping championships tomorrow after the blizzard which had been raging since Saturday played out today, permitting the eager contestants to get some practice on nearby slopes.

With the sun breaking through upon the 20 inches of fresh snow piled up by the four day storm, schools and business shops prepared to close tomorrow so the ski-loving citizens could attend the first National jumping meet held here in 41 years.

Diminishing winds this afternoon gave several of the 98 riders still listed for the meet a chance to try out Suicide Hill which has been kept groomed despite the blizzard. Joe Perrault of Ishpeming, one of the favorites in Class A, got in a couple of leaps of 225 feet in testing the footing and wind.

BASEBALL

Avalon, Calif., Feb. 25 (AP)—Bill Lee, a pitching mainstay with the Chicago Cubs for nine years, rejoined his old teammates today and received a hearty welcome. He was signed after receiving his release from the Boston Braves, for whom he won 10 games while losing nine last season. Lee was in uniform 30 minutes after his arrival.

Pasadena, Calif., Feb. 25 (AP)—Pitchers with the Chicago White Sox today began to show signs of bearing down in anticipation of the arrival Thursday of the infielders and outfielders who probably will want to plunge into batting practice. Manager Ted Lyons has at least ten pitchers ready.

Red Ruffing pitched at batting practice 40 minutes before Lyons called a halt.

St. Petersburg, Fla., Feb. 25 (AP)—Infielders Vernal (Nippy) Jones and Pitcher Kenneth Johnson, joined the World Champion St. Louis Cardinals in spring training today to complete the roster of rookies brought up from Redbird farms for the 1947 season.

Lakeland, Fla., Feb. 25 (AP)—Second Baseman Eddie Mayo cheered the Detroit Tiger training camp today by showing some of his familiar old skill.

The 33-year-old infielder, in camp a week early, said he felt "wonderful" after a workout in which he gave no signs of last year's sciatic trouble.

Mayo Steals Show In Tiger Workout At Lakeland, Fla.

Lakeland, Fla., Feb. 25 (AP)—Second Baseman Eddie Mayo, sidelined during most of the 1946 season with an ailing back, stole the show as the Detroit Tigers went through the second spring training workout today.

Although today's session was scheduled officially for pitchers and catchers, Mayo attracted most of the attention as he scampered nimbly around his second base position.

"I feel wonderful," Eddie beamed. "Haven't had a single pain since I had that disc removed from my spine last summer. I'm ready to go."

Manager Steve O'Neill had a pleased grin as he noted Mayo's recovery from the sciatic condition that crippled the 33-year old infielder last season. O'Neill spent the last 15 minutes of the press drill hitting grounders.

Mayo, a sparkplug in the Tiger pennant drive.

The Sports Parade

By Ken Gunderman

Whether there will be a professional baseball league in the Upper Peninsula this season and particularly whether Escanaba will have a club in such a league, in the event one is organized, will be determined tonight at the city hall council chambers. All baseball enthusiasts are invited and, in fact, urged to attend because a large attendance is essential to get a cross section of opinion. As we have pointed out previously in these columns, the problem is not one for Escanaba alone because even if Escanaba is prepared to go ahead with the development of a local club, it would mean nothing unless other cities are likewise prepared to do the same.

Organized baseball inevitably is coming to the Upper Peninsula sooner or later. Tonight's meeting probably will determine whether it will be this year or some uncertain time of the future. Clinton Hodges, the man who is attempting to organize the U. P. league, will be able to give a report tonight on what the prospects are in other cities where he has done organized baseball missionary work. If the other cities, particularly Marquette, Menominee, Iron Mountain and Sault Ste. Marie, are not moving towards the development of clubs in their cities, it means, naturally, that the project will have to be dropped in Escanaba, temporarily, at least. You just cannot have a one or two-club league in organized baseball. It can be done and successfully, too, with a four-club league, even though six or eight clubs are more desired.

BIG NINE CAGE RACE TANGLED

Purdue Makes Decision On Uncompleted Game With Wisconsin

Chicago, Feb. 25 (AP)—Purdue University officials will make the final decision whether the school's basketball game with Wisconsin will be replayed, Kenneth L. Wilson, Western Conference commissioner, said today.

Purdue was leading Wisconsin, 34-33 at halftime at Lafayette, Ind., last night when the bleachers collapsed, killing two and injuring 250 persons.

The contest, which was not completed, has a vital bearing on the Big Nine championship, since Wisconsin currently leads the race with an 8-2 record and Illinois, the only other team in the running, is second with 8-3.

Wilson said no decision on whether the game would be eliminated or replayed would be made until probably Friday, and then it would be up to the Purdue officials to decide.

If the Purdue-Wisconsin tilt is not replayed the Big Nine title chase could end Saturday—providing:

1. Wisconsin defeated Minnesota, or

2. Illinois defeated Indiana while Wisconsin was losing to Minnesota.

Chevs Take Hubs Of Manistique In Game At Munising

Munising—The Munising Cox Chevs took the Manistique Hubs to the tune of 58-43 in a game played on the hardwood at Mather gym here Sunday.

Drawing first blood, the Cox Chevs hit a scoring spree with Cox, Rasseau, Dott and Steinhoff hitting the hoop consistently to lead the Hubs at first quarter time by a score of 14-11.

Charity tosses and a continued swishing of the net with field goals gave the Chevs a commanding lead of 12 points at half time.

Berger and his teammates came back after half time and narrowed the gap to 38 to 42 during the third quarter. However, during the final period, the Cox boys again took command and racked up 16 points to the Hubs five, enabling the Chevs to end the game with a 15 point lead.

Gladstone Lions Host To Perkins For Return Game

Gladstone—The Gladstone Lions will play a return game with the Perkins independent basketball quintet here this evening at 8:00 o'clock on the local floor.

The two teams are very evenly matched, the Lions dropping a closely fought game to the Perkins five in a pre-Christmas game that went two overtime periods.

The earliest known use of animal glue was at least 3,000 years ago. A stone carving depicting the process of gluing was found on the site of the ancient city of Thebes.

THREE LEAGUE GAMES PLAYED

Bargain Night Gives Ranguette's Success Secret As Lagniappe

The City League ran a bargain night at the junior high school gym last night. Displayed before the eyes of the spectators were not only three full and complete City League basketball games, but a revelation as well.

The revelation concerned the prescription used by the Tom Swifts basketball team to compound or prepare a high scoring ace of the calibre of Bob Ranguette.

In addition to Ranguette himself, two of the basic ingredients are named Gauthier and Johnson. It might be noted, too, that Ranguette himself has been shouting that prescription all season, and has been credited with excessive modesty rather than plain horse-sense.

But last night Mike's Bar tied Ranguette and the rest of Swifts up beautifully while Johnson and Gauthier were on the bench, and let loose in a hurry when the two basic ingredients were injected back into the game.

Swifts won 57-43, doing most of their scoring in the second and third quarters while Johnson and Gauthier were present.

St. Ann lost to the VFW 46-53 in a pull and haul game that went from one end of the floor to the other during the first half. The first period was all VFW; the second period all St. Ann; the third period within a point of a dead heat; and the fourth period was barely VFW's.

Oberg's took a licking from the Gladstone Lions 85-60 in a slugfest without a thought of defense. Trekas of Gladstone gathered himself 25 points while leading the pack up and down the floor.

Scores by quarters:
St. Ann CYO . . . 5 17 16 8-46
VFW 19 5 17 12-53

Swifts 8 20 16 13-57
Mike's Bar 12 8 14 9-43

Oberg's 14 7 16 19-60
Gladstone Lions 20 24 17 24-85

GOLDEN GLOVES STAR WATCHED

Minneapolis High School Lad Stands Out In Chicago Bouts

Chicago, Feb. 25 (AP)—A 16-year-old Minneapolis high school lad stood out like a champion in the making among 37 lumbering heavyweights seeking amateur title honors in the Golden Gloves tournament of champions in the Chicago Stadium tonight.

The youngster was Vincent Donnelly, a junior in Minneapolis Roosevelt high school, proclaimed by those who know as the most promising young amateur heavyweight of the year.

Donnelly, 6-feet, 2½-inches tall and weighing 197 pounds, handled himself with amazing ability in disposing of Willie Champion, 204-pound negro from Cleveland, O., among the early heavyweight battles.

Donnelly twice had his heavier opponent on the verge of hitting the floor from short right-hand blasts to the chin. In the second round of their bristling three-rounder, he nailed Champion with two short rights to the chin that made the negro's knees sag and sent him reeling. Vince had him wobbling again in the third round.

George Barton, veteran Minneapolis referee and sports columnist, as well as the famed old-time St. Paul boxer, Mike and Tommy Gibbons, proclaimed Donnelly to be the best prospect they had seen in 10 years.

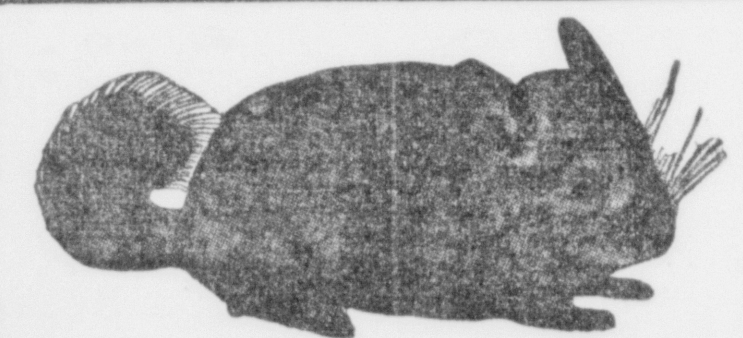

Donnelly boxes because he likes it. A year ago, he defeated Dick Grant, Minneapolis Golden Gloves champion heavyweight, but did not appear in the Chicago tournament because he was only 15. Now he is determined to go on to the top from Golden Gloves competition as Joe Louis did in 1934.

Tonight's battles, numbering 120, trimmed four weight divisions—welterweight, middleweight, light-heavyweight and heavyweight—to 72 contenders for tomorrow night's quarter-finals.

NEVADA RE-ELECTED
Chicago, Feb. 25 (AP)—Ken Jones, sports editor of the Peoria, Ill., Journal, was elected president of the Golden Gloves Writers' today. He succeeds Charles Johnson, sports editor of the Minneapolis Star-Journal.

Other officers included Flem Hall, Fort Worth, Texas, Star-Telegram, first vice-president; Norm Wherry, Gary, Ind., Post-Tribune, second vice-president; and Charles Nevada, Milwaukee Journal, re-elected secretary-treasurer.

The mule deer, so called because of his long ears, is the principal big game animal of Arizona and is found nearly everywhere in the state except in the north-eastern section. More than 15,000—the largest single herd of mule deer in the United States—roam the Kiabab forest, north of Grand Canyon.

SCHEDULE U. P. AIRPORT MEET

Escanaba Representatives To Attend Session At Iron Mountain

A delegation of Escanaba city and Chamber of Commerce airport committee representatives will go to Iron Mountain tomorrow to attend a meeting called to discuss proposed airport improvement plans for several Upper Peninsula cities.

In the Escanaba delegation will be City Manager A. V. Aronson, Wally Arntzen, Fred Sensiba and several others who yesterday had not definitely been named. If the group is small they may fly to Iron Mountain.

The meeting is called to discuss the proposed plan of the Wisconsin Central Airlines of Clintonville, Wis., to establish airline service in this area next summer. Col. Floyd Evans, director of the Michigan Aeronautics Commission, and others of his department, will be present, together with city officials of Escanaba, Houghton, Ironwood, Menominee and Iron Mountain, and officials of the Wisconsin Central Airlines.

The CAB has approved the airline application for an airline route for passenger, mail and express service between Milwaukee and the Upper Peninsula, with stops in the Fox River Valley and at Menominee, Escanaba, Iron Mountain, Marquette, Houghton-Hancock, and Ironwood. Under the schedule two round trip flights will be made daily.

At Escanaba it is expected the city airport runway will have to be lengthened to accommodate the airline's planes. Further and more definite information is expected to be received by the Escanaba representatives at the meeting tomorrow.

DEATH CLAIMS ROBERT HILLS

Supt. Of Ontonagon Schools Dies In Miami

Robert O. Hills, 53, superintendent of schools in Ontonagon for 15 years and a former member of the faculty of Escanaba high school, died at Miami, Florida, Tuesday morning. He had been suffering from a chronic heart ailment for the past year, and has been a patient at the Veterans hospital in Milwaukee and also at Sacred Heart sanatorium in that city. He had gone to Florida two months ago in hopes that the climate would benefit his health.

Mr. Hills, whose widow is the former Dorothy Boudreau of this city, was born in Marinette. He attended Stevens Point, Wis. Normal following his graduation from Marinette high school, and received his Master's degree from the University of Minnesota.

He was a veteran of World War I and a Past Commander of the American Legion post of Ontonagon, and was a member of the Ontonagon Council of the Knights of Columbus.

Surviving are his widow and two daughters, Mrs. Edward Roehm, of Miami Beach, Florida, and Lois Hills, of Allegan, Mich.; one grandson; and two sisters and one brother, Mrs. Milton Kell of Powers; Mrs. Henry W. Boyle, of Bark River and Clarence H. Hills, of Los Angeles.

Arrangements for the funeral are incomplete, but the services probably will be held in Escanaba and burial will be made in the family lot in St. Joseph's cemetery here.

Woodrow Wilson, David Lloyd George, Georges Clemenceau, and Vittorio Orlando composed the Big Four in World War I.
